

Kitchen Hire

Our light and spacious kitchen can be hired by the day for private cookery classes, product launches, photography shoots or special events.

We are happy to arrange hire with or without additional support from our kitchen assistants and tutors. Perhaps you are a cookery tutor with a client base but no kitchen, or a producer who needs a venue for a product launch or celebration. We can design a hire to suit your needs, all we ask is that the ingredients you will be using are all vegetarian! Please contact us to discuss corporate and special events and hiring the school.

Our dining room can also be booked for private meetings or events either with or without a culinary experience

DEMUTHS IS IDEAL

Cookery teachers can hire the school for single days or longer periods, as one-offs or as repeated courses.

Photographers and filmmakers will love our Georgian building where the kitchen and dining rooms are filled with natural light. We can also cook delicious food and style it for you!

For artisan food producers, Demuths Cookery School provides a perfect venue for testing or showcasing a new product. You could host a book launch and, of course, our space is ideal for demonstrating recipes.

Talk to our office manager to discuss how it works and to make an appointment to see the school.
